Another delicious salad combines cream cheese, green peppers, string beans, and lettuce. To prepare the filling take as small cooked string beans as you can get, and have them as tender as possible; mix them with some cream cheese. Have green peppers as nearly the same size as possible, open them at the top, and remove the inside. Cut them at the bottom so they will stand up, and fill them with the beans, mixed at the top, and remove the inside. Cut them at the bottom so they will stand up, and fill them with the beans, mixed the bag of spices and strain or not, as with french dressing. Poetry, art, and music are sweeteners for life, capable of offsetting the uglinoss of hard little duties. They must be performed, these duties, but they need not be allowed to absorb the whole need not be allowed to absorb the whole day. A man who does not profess any liking for religion as offered from the pulpit goes to church Sunday just to hear the music. He says that it makes him good for the whole week. I happen to know a few art lovers who are beautiful in their home surroundings, and a woman who has suffered for years with hip disease finds strength to bear pain in poetry, of which she is very fond. Against these is an army of dissatisfied women chained to distasteful tasks which they do not try to offset.

REUNIONS.

The regular Annual Reunion of the 81st N. Y. was held at Oswego Sept. 16, 1908, and 50 of the regiment registered.

It was a real pleasure to meet the old comrades, some of whom had journeyed many miles to be present, and the warm and friendly greetings accorded them attested the great esteem in which they are held. There were no set speeches in the morning; only business was transacted, so that the comrades and their friends spent the comrades and their friends spent the morning in social pleasures very delightfully. The W. R. C. provided a dinner that merited the thanks it evoked. There were about 200 persons present in all. Letters were received from about 40 comrades from different States and Territories. Editor National Tribune: There has been a very entitusiastic Reunion recently in this city of the comrades of the 3d Iowa. It was the largest and most representative gathering these veterans have enjoyed in many years. There are seven local members of the regiment ment, and they were unstinted in their efforts to have this the best Reunion efforts to have this the best Reunion yet enjoyed. The President, Col. George W. Crossley, of Webster City, was reelected, and J. F. Treutner, of Charles City, was elected Secretary. The Mayor of Cedar Falls extended a cordial welcome, and several addresses were made Wednesday evening, the principal speaker being Maj. John F. Lacey, of Oskatoka Republican populate for the U.S. loosa, Republican nominee for the U. S Senate to succeed the late Wm. B. Alli

Nearly 109, including the wives and daughters of the vet. erans, enjoyed the hospitality extended. On Thursday a dinner was served on the beautiful lawn by Mrs. George Philpot and Mrs. Charles Boehmler, and after-dinner speeches were made by many prominent comrades. Patriotic songs were sung, and a photograph of the crowd was taken. Over 100 par-ticipated this day also. On Friday the members of Co. K who were in attendance enjoyed a dinner at the home of Jacob Boehmier.—Mrs. D. N. Hurd, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Reunion of the 31st Ohio.

Seventy-seven comrades of the 31st Ohio attended the 30th Annual Reunion at Crooksville, O., Sept. 22, 1908. The Campfire at night was a great success The Watts Concert Band, of Crooks ville, delighted the veterans; the choir of the Christian Church rendered the old war songs, and the 31st Ohio trio, Alexander, Davis and Marsh, won plaudits from the large audience. Two recitations by High School misses were roundly cheered. Addresses were by S. F. Stewart, Evanston, Ill.; Capt. W. H. Minturn, New Lexington, O.; Rev. J. P. Ewing, Crooksville; Dr. J. W. Alexander, Newark, and others. Comrade Urlah Cahill presided at the Campire, which was kept up three hours, and there was not a cold number on the program nor any lack of interest. Eighteen deaths were reported during the year. The new officers of the As-sociation are: President, Uriah Cahill, Richwood; Vice Presidents, Co. A, G. W. Gordon, Cardington; Co. B, Amos Baird, Columbus; Co. C, Levi Ross, Columbus; Co. D. Ferd Conner, Buchtel; Co. E, L. M. Cunard, Edison; Co. F. John Hartshorr, Raymond; Co. G. W. H. Canaday, Reseville; Co. H. Editor National Tribune: I have been a subscriber to The National Tribun-for almost a quarter of a century, and don't see how any G. A. R. man car do without it; at least I can't. I was in the Army of the Potomac from the ime it was organized until it was disbanded, and my regiment never lost a man but what I was with it. I have been very much interested in Comrade McElroy's history of the Western armies, but much more in the history of the Army of the Potomac. I have read a good many histories of the but I think his account of the Army of the Potomac is the best so far as lished, and his opinions of officers are about the same as mine, as far as I could form them from what little I -C.
